

Name: Eric Brymer

(First Name)

(Surname)

Introduce yourself in a brief paragraph:

A lecturer, consultant and researcher with over 25 years experience in the adventure and eco tourism industry. Previous Industry experience includes working as the executive officer of the peak body responsible for leading the adventure recreation industry where I developed the business accreditation model and supported the development of qualifications and risk management procedures. I have recently moved to academia where I am currently focusing on the role of adventure and nature based activities as a medium for the development of positive health and the development of learning in adventure recreation.