

Name: Eleanor Horton

Introduce yourself in a brief paragraph:

I identify with Indian heritage as my maternal grandfather was from the Punjab region and came to Queensland many years ago. I am a Registered Nurse who has worked in Australia, England and New Zealand in various clinical settings. I have taught in nursing, midwifery and staff development education programs for many years in New Zealand and Australia. I am currently working on doctorate looking at The Politics of Difference in Nursing.