

Name: Aravindaraj

Govindaraj Kannan

Introduce yourself in a brief paragraph:

I studied my Bachelor degree in Chemical and Electrochemical Engineering at Central Electrochemical Research Institute (CECRI) Karaikudi, India, one of the prestigious CSIR institutes. Then I did my masters degree in Materials Science and Engineering at University of New South Wales, Sydney, Australia. Upon completion, I started my PhD at Ian Wark Research Institute, University of South Australia in Adelaide, Australia, under the supervision of Prof. Namita Roy Choudhury and A/Prof. Naba Dutta. From November 2008, I have been working as an Associate Research Fellow at University of Wollongong in the School of Mechanical, Materials & Mechatronics Engineering. My research interests are electrochemical engineering, corrosion, polymer science and engineering, coatings and thin films.