

Name: Rajeev Sharma

Introduce yourself in a brief paragraph:

I was born in Delhi. After completing studies at Delhi University, I worked for 2 years in the commercial sector in India before heading to Nigeria for a supposedly short stint. As luck would have it, I spent almost 10 years teaching Management and Marketing in Bauchi Nigeria.

Moved to Wollongong Australia in 1990. Worked at Wollongong University as a Teaching Fellow for about a year. I am now settled in Darwin for last 18 years. I currently manage the MBA and DBA programs at Charles Darwin University. Apart from program management, I teach post graduate students in marketing, international business and strategy.

I am committed to community engagement in Dariwn. I am currently the President of the Indian Cultural Society of the Northern Territory.
