

Name: Professor Hema Sharda

Introduce yourself in a brief paragraph:

I am the Director of South Asia Relations with the Vice Chancellery at UWA. My prime responsibility is to establish long term and sustainable high quality education links with India with an aim to foster collaborations with to carry out joint research on mutually beneficial areas. I have been successful in establishing MOUs for UWA with premier Indian Institutes and Universities such as IIT Delhi, IIT Madras, Indian Institute of Sciences and we have a major project in the field of micro-electronics funded under SIRF grant. We also have MOU with Anna University, Mumbai University, Punjab University, Punjab Agriculture University, Osmania University ICRESAT, and ICAR. We encourage staff student exchange from our MOU partner and we wish to expand our partnerships with remaining IITs and Delhi University, DTU and prominent NITs and IIMs in India. At present we have over 200 Indian students enrolled at UWA in various Postgraduate and research programs.
